Possible Duplicate: Information in chat visible to everybody I am using Jgraphx for drawing graphs. I am not using web browser at all. Instead, I am using java script. So I use Javascript.Document.TextContent.dot() to draw the graphs. I have successfully tried to draw a graph using this method. The problem is that if I use this method, other people in chat view my chats as blank. Is there a way to prevent others from seeing what I am trying to show in chat? A: You can't. You can have conversations in private messages, where only users that you contact are allowed to see it, but every other user will see that you wrote some text.
