prison for uploading music files to a deep web site and recruiting other youngsters to share them. The teen was found guilty of "distributing music, or as a co-maker of electronic music," on the e-Bay site Silk Road in September 2015. He was one of seven people arrested in a high-profile raid in Italy by police from the Child Exploitation and Obscenity unit of the FBI on Dec. 2, 2015. Those caught in the police's two-year-long operation are accused of selling drugs and black market equipment on Silk Road, and using payments in bitcoins to launder money, all of it involving small-scale crime that was made more difficult thanks to anonymity.

Q: How to pass multiple filenames to ffmpeg I'm using ffmpeg to convert videos to mp3. I have a list of files in a folder and i don't know how i can use ffmpeg to convert them. I need to pass the filenames to ffmpeg, not the absolute paths.

Something like this: `ffmpeg -i`

`*EUR,*GBP,*AUD,*USD,CAD` But that's not working. A: Use a wildcard ``, followed by single quotes to signify the list of items, like so: `ffmpeg -i '*EUR,*GBP,*AUD,*USD,*CAD'` If you need to use a shell script, you could do
