buttons, and get the latest news and information from over 100+ sources – BBC, CNN, Reddit, Today and more. Automatically update your feeds, even when connected to the Internet Change the style of the appearance with over 100+ color schemes Add as many panels as you need Easily save, hide and launch screen configurations Adjust the opacity of the tiles and panels Change the overlay height and width and more This little app is designed to allow you to easily set network preferences for your devices. It can help you find the right gateway settings for your device. It has a simple interface that displays icons (Available Networks) of all the wireless networks in your vicinity and one of them can be selected as the preferred network of the application. You can choose to have the preferred network of the application set automatically upon login (Automatic), or you can set it manually by tapping on the Preferred Network button. Once you have selected a Preferred Network, you can now set the proxy, DNS server, and other options like Security (WPA2 Enterprise), Quality of Service, and Wifi band. In addition, you can also set VPN options, like Country, Protocol (PPTP, L2TP, IPSec), Encryption and Authentication type and connection mode. The application can be used to automatically set your preferred network in the Internet browsers (internet explorer, chrome, firefox and others). It does not work in airplane mode or when there are no networks available. If you have more than one network connection available, you can have the app switch to the network you want to use by tapping on the correct network. This will show you the available networks in the vicinity, and the most preferred one will be highlighted. You can also manually select and change the preferred network by tapping the highlighted networks name. You can set a specific network as the preferred network (For example, network with the strongest WiFi signal), or you can set it to automatically switch to that network as soon as it becomes available. The application will display a list of networks that are within your preferred range. You can do a quick text search on the networks names that appear in the list to find the exact network you are searching for. You can easily save the changes to the network using the "Save Changes" button. The application will automatically save your preferences on the next launch.

Omnimo

Omnimo is an elegant news center. It can provide you with news from various online sources, such as BBC, Reddit, and more. You can quickly launch favorite applications from the sidebar, run Google searches, and customize the look and feel of the widgets. Download Omnimo by NCSOFT: Actualize Debian is a utility that helps you install and manage updated versions of Debian packages on your computers. The tool should enable you to upgrade your packages without installing them manually. It works with Debian version Lenny (4.0), Squeeze (5.0), and Wheezy (7.0) currently. Bazarr is a script which allows you to easily install the latest version of packages that are not in the distribution. Installation Bazarr is currently not available in Debian's repositories. To install it, download the latest.deb file from the link at the bottom of this page and double-click it. Usage # Bazarr list Search for packages # Bazarr install Install a package # Bazarr is List all packages using # Bazarr remove Remove a package # Bazarr release Show the currently released packages Description Bazarr is a script which allows you to easily install the latest version of the packages that are not in the distribution. The script is designed to automatically download and install these packages, saving you time and effort. It can be useful to install the latest stable version of packages which are not in the distribution, such as proprietary drivers, updates for customised software, or just when you need a specific version of a software package. This tool replaces the previous method of having to install Debian manually. This method is also automated using the dpkg utility. Using Bazarr To install new packages, all you have to do is run the Bazarr script and provide it with the packages and packages versions that you wish to install. The necessary packages and their versions will be downloaded to your computer and installed by the dpkg utility. To remove packages, you need to provide a list of packages and their versions. The script will then automatically download the latest version of the required packages, remove the former versions and replace them with the new ones. To know the current version of a package, run Bazarr without arguments or
