A: The problem seems to be that your old version of AutoCAD was 32bit. You have to get a new 64bit version, as that gives you access to all memory and also some 'extended features'. This link helped me get rid of the error: You can install it into your Applications folder, so it becomes available without installing anything. The file with the instructions is 'quickenbridge-osx.zip', I had to download this version of the software. Autodesk sells a version of AutoCAD 2016 that includes 32bit. Please contact them for support. Q: Quartz.net scheduler failing to execute code that runs on startup I have a class, called MyJob, that I need to run immediately on startup. Here is the problem: If I put a scheduled job in my config file, it works fine...but I need it to run immediately, not at the time the scheduler is initialized. When I say "immediately", I mean after the system has booted up and the scheduler has started executing jobs. I've been googling around for an answer for a couple days now and haven't found anything. To run it immediately, I do this:

public class MyJob:IJob { private static IJobDataMap _defaultJobDataMap = new JobDataMap(); private static ITrigger _defaultTrigger = null; public IJobExecutionContext JobExecutionContext { get; set; } public MyJob() { JobExecutionContext = new JobExecutionContext(); } public void Execute(IJobExecutionContext context) { _defaultTrigger = TriggerBuilder.Create().WithIdentity("default", "group1").StartNow().Build(); ... } } I start it with this JobDetail job = JobBuilder.Create().Build

The order has been upheld by the high court but an appeal to the supreme court is expected later this week. Sophie Foster, 17, from Yalding in Kent, was 15 when she was kidnapped in the city of Abu Dhabi in 2008 and was accused of attempting to smuggle drugs. She has now launched an appeal against the decision to send her back to the United Arab Emirates. She was held for eight months, beaten and abused, and finally forced to sign a false confession under duress in which she admitted drug smuggling charges. The case was eventually heard at the International Criminal Court, where Abu Dhabi had been accused of failing to protect Foster when she was kidnapped. Prosecutors said it was clear that they did not intend to send her home. But the UAE's foreign ministry said in a statement on Monday that the supreme court had decided to uphold her deportation order. The ministry said that Foster "has broken the terms of her citizenship, and has been convicted and sentenced of drug offences in the UAE," and confirmed that she must leave the country on 15 September. It also said that "she is trying to use the fact that she has been cleared of the charges in the UK", although there was no suggestion she had been acquitted, in a bid to have her f30f4ceada
