The program can be downloaded from the following website: I am looking for someone to help me with video editing. I have a lot of video editing experience, but I need someone who can help me combine all the video I have created in the past with a narrator. There is about 20 videos, and the narrator is provided (the first 2 minutes of each video are recorded by a different narrator). If you are interested in learning how to combine the videos, we can discuss further. ...that we can get a top level domain - our business needs to be in stock so we need a direct url - we need a domain name that is memorable, when you go to our site the company name has to come up first, not the host name and also be one word - it would be best if the domain name has the same value to users as it does to Google - although this is not a requirement we would 1 - I need somebody who can turn a psd file to a web banner. 2 - This psd file have to be in a huge size, 1.40Mb so it's a maxi canvas. 3 - It's a picture of a house, you have to make this psd like a wallpaper. ...someone who is also in the best in the industry. You will need to do your own research and come up with the best keyword combinations that will bring us the highest volume of traffic. I would like an analysis that tells me what are the best combinations that I can use and also tell me if it's worth spending any time on this or not. This tool helped me to organize my personal directories by file types. Has anyone noticed the bug on the fact that the main audit report (which gives very detailed and granular information about the content of your directories) will be in French, despite having selected English as the main language? If you are familiar with French, then it's your lucky day. I don't understand, the page still says English. METS is currently in beta, the report is not in French, it is in English. It is only displayed in the main panel but it is here to help you in your backup, have you compared the one in the main panel to the one on the second panel? The export you are referring to is the main report, and not the export of your directory data as you said. The main report will be in French because I chose French as the main language on installation. I also have another suggestion, if you are using the Chrome browser, you can select the browser language on the settings (options -> tools -> switch language). Chrome can also work on Android devices, I tested it and it worked perfectly. For the export, I can confirm that there is a bug that prevents me from exporting all the data, but it still allows me to export all the folder's files, sizes, used, and free space. @godefroi, Yes, I used Chrome and it worked perfectly. I did not pay attention to the language settings. @Archifiltre, I also noticed that there is a bug that prevents me from exporting the data. It is however possible to export all the folder's files, sizes, used, and free space. The export I am referring to is the main report, and not the export of the data about your directories. I will try to download the export again, and will test again. Thanks! @anon, No, it doesn't support Linux. I tested Archifiltre on Windows 10 and it worked perfectly. I tried to export the
