PowerPool Energy on behalf of IR, the only other entity with access to this data, is providing some data that they have assembled and provided to us. I also wanted to let you know that we have asked the Enron Corp. Legal Department to put together a memo that describes how ISA and DWR can gain access to the same data, since both organizations are in a position to provide or receive information about ISO power quality data. This memo should address issues such as terms, data ownership and distribution, distribution terms for wholesale sales, etc. I attach the "Legislative Report" by the ISA Board of Directors that is cited by the ISO when they report the data in their April 25, 2001 "Technology Assessment." We have already obtained a copy of this report. What's New In?

New Jersey Congressman Tom MacArthur has been under fire from his Democratic colleagues for calling on states to release immigration statistics to corroborate President Trump's claims of a full-blown immigration crisis. "If we're going to go on a fact-finding mission, we can start with some basic facts," MacArthur said during a House Rules Committee hearing Wednesday where lawmakers discussed the President's immigration-related executive orders. "A Pew Research Center poll in July had 10 percent of the people in this country believe that half of the residents of the U.S. are foreign-born. That's over five million people," he continued. "That's three-and-a-half million people who are undocumented. I'm just saying it is possible the President, or somebody on his team, saw a headline that said, 'An undocumented immigrant killed five-and-a-half million Americans,' and they said, 'I wonder how they got there.'" The Bay Shore Republican then called on his Democratic colleagues to reach out to the White House and find out if he's right. "We need to know if that's accurate," he said. "And once we know, we can make the decisions." Democrats were furious, blasting him as insensitive to the influx of migrants in the country. The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Jerry Nadler, New York Democrat, accused MacArthur of "a shocking lack of empathy." The chairman of the House Committee on Homeland Security, Bennie Thompson, said he was "chagrined" at MacArthur's behavior. Even MacArthur's fellow Republicans were dismayed. "@RepTomMacArthur's comments are offensive and insensitive," tweeted Republican Rep. Rodney Frelinghuysen, who chairs the House Appropriations Committee. "We are a nation of immigrants. We are also a country of laws. Together, we must find a middle ground that protects the rule of law while protecting the rights of those who are here legally." MacArthur has been under a massive media microscope since a Trump administration official in July said MacArthur's claim that there are at least 3.9 million undocumented immigrants living across the country was false. The Trump official
