WinSnap Portable Edition

WinSnap is a lightweight app for taking screenshots. It allows you to record the screen of all Windows applications, windows or selected areas or objects, add text, line art or raster graphics, remove the Windows background, crop the picture to square and resize the image or rotate the picture. Additionally, the program supports delayed captures, including mouse-over, clicks, focus and button-press events. The program supports many file formats, including BMP, JPEG, TIFF, GIF, PNG and XBM. With some file formats, it is possible to use transparency layers and color depth. The output formats include BMP, JPEG, PNG, GIF, TIFF and XBM. WinSnap works with various application screen sizes. It supports for instance recording not only the entire Windows desktop but also the entire application window, selected area, parts of the window (top, bottom, left, right etc.) or a specific object. WinSnap records mouse events like the mouse cursor, key presses and button clicks. You can also include the mouse cursor in your capture. WinSnap can be automatically run at system start. Furthermore, it always stays on top of the active application, but this behavior can be changed from the Settings menu. You can customize the screenshot capture properties to fit your needs: Capture time: only capture windows created after the given time Capture delay: capture only events that are defined by the given time value Capture mouse actions: capture all mouse actions within the given time period Capture rotation: allows to rotate the captured screenshot 90 degrees clockwise You can also crop the screenshot to square and resize the image. WinSnap supports three types of watermarks: images, text and lines. You can define the watermark location and position as well as the watermark color, opacity, spacing and size. The watermark settings can be customized in a form. In the input form, you need to enter the title of the watermark and select the application you want to use. A list of available applications will appear. Alternatively, it is possible to browse the directories and select the application from the list of found files. The program supports many output formats, including BMP, JPEG, PNG, GIF, TIFF and XBM. With some file formats, it is possible to use transparency layers and color depth. You can also export the picture to the clipboard, where it can be pasted anywhere or uploaded directly to the Clipboard. Additionally, a Preview function provides an instant preview
