See below for additional videos and images of the “HyperMotion Technology.” FIFA 22’s core gameplay engine has been upgraded to deliver improved flexibility, more game choices and more ways to score. Players can build their player from the ground up in Career Mode, create a dynasty in Ultimate Team, and compete in more game types and competitive modes in FIFA Ultimate Team. FIFA 22 covers four major areas of gameplay innovation: Strength and Stamina – Players will feel more powerful, stronger and more resistant to contact on and off the ball. Strength and Stamina improve as players accrue game time through gameplay, with the more game time spent in the game the stronger and more powerful players will feel. Physiological Engine – New Physiological Engine, which monitors how a player is able to use energy to do things like sprint, jump, run, block, pass, shoot, receive, turn, shoot again or intercept the ball to move through a crowd. Players will be able to use those abilities over time during gameplay, similar to how a player trains to get stronger. Dynamic Defending – Defensive intelligence is improved to give players the ability to adapt to what the opponent is doing, reacting to their actions, and taking advantage of the gaps and angles on the pitch to retain possession. Pass and Move – Pass and Move is a new set of controls that lets you put more pace on your passes and finish moves in a way that feels intuitive and accessible. In addition, the new “flicks” mechanic, allows you to accelerate the ball from rest in the way that you would if you were running at full pace. In FIFA 22, game types are also supported by a new Dynamic Engine. The Dynamic Engine allows for changes to the natural flow of the match based on what you do on the pitch, as well as by the type of game you are playing. The Dynamic Engine has changed to reflect the more complex use of space on the pitch, whether you are playing a 5v5 or 5v3 game, more advanced game modes, or in certain areas of the pitch. Every game type is supported by a new or enhanced dribbling model, and key styles of play, such as shots and key passes are supported by the Dynamic Engine. You will be able to adapt your play style to fit the style of the match you are playing. FIFA 22 also introduces a new gamemode, the 4v4 Team

Features Key:

EA SPORTS FIFA 22 has a new engine. The game is powered by a brand new game engine from our friends at Frostbite. That means you get epic moments like Cristiano Ronaldo controlling a soccer field from his move onto the pitch, or Neymar parading down the field with the ball at his feet. It also means an immersive presentation of all the beautiful gameplays and incredible player moves that the new engine has to offer. For FIFA players, this is the most essential FIFA experience ever, enhanced through a complete rebuild of the underlying gameplay and technology that is behind the football pitch. New Approach The New Approach to FIFA vision is to bring you back to the pitch and make the game feel as authentic as possible, regardless of your mode. From long-range shots with accuracy and precision, to closer control of real-world moments on-the-pitch, the New Approach delivers true-to-life dribbling, shooting and the feeling of controlling a real-life football match. New Gameplay A completely new, shared Touch Motion Engine powers the workflow and game play of every single experience within FIFA. You get an enhanced ability to touch your player, pass, shoot and dribble with more precision and fluidity. The new engine makes passes and shots more realistic, and passes and interceptions less predictable. Dribbling is much smoother than ever before, and the game feels more responsive. Interactive Improvements Next-gen physics and technology allow us to deliver interactive improvements. Player ratings and animation overhauls will improve the feel of player controls, passing and dribbling on a play-by-play level. In FIFA Ultimate Team, you will be able to assign player attributes to your players by earning XP, as you spend the points you earn on player customization. Players will be able to earn pro ratings after each month and through match play. Authentic Player Controls Real Football is the core philosophy of FIFA and this year we are delivering a new interface that brings you closer to the players and what's happening on the pitch. Individual players are prioritized for ball control and can be instructed to make precise passes with precision and control. As you master your position on the pitch, your performance will improve over the course of the season to make you feel you have become more skilled.
