I wasn't there to watch, but in the midst of the madness I found myself, breathless, pining for a not too distant past. Perched above the forest atop a dirt mound, his tall boyish figure silhouetted against an expanse of blue sky, I found myself enraptured by a youth that was reaching for more than just the attention of his lady love. For the first time in my life, I felt the raw desire to leave my family, my life, my loved ones, behind to just be. I wanted to live a different life, a free life. A life that wasn't constrained by time, distance, or the expectations of others. Yet it wasn't just the girl that captured my heart that evening, but the state of mind that I'd seen on his face. I mean, I'd admired it at times, felt it in the way he'd treated people in ways that I didn't really understand, and had seen a glimpse of it in the time that I'd spent with him. But I'd only had a glimpse, and I was forced to settle for that, for it was not to be seen more than that. And I remember thinking that it didn't matter... Today was different. Today I was going to be the same as him. But not quite. Today I was going to live my life the way he wanted me to. Free. Untethered. A Song of Echoes was first

Then came the first time I looked at real mice of my 1st studio siberian mouse hd. By the time the game was finished, I had created a project based around the many little mice, although I have to admit that the project ended up being more of a challenge than the game itself. Comparison of semen characteristics in men who have sex with men (MSM) and men who have sex with women (MSW): epidemiological and mechanistic considerations. This study was designed to investigate the prevalence of urological malignancy in MSM and the association of long-term high semen neutrophil count with semen parameters in this population. We also aimed to examine sperm maturation and apoptosis in ejaculated leucocytes in MSM and MSW. A cross-sectional study was undertaken in 866 MSM (age 21-58 years) and 1104 MSW (age 22-63 years) in Hong Kong. Data were collected using a structured and self-administered questionnaire. Serum antibody, sperm antibody and HPV DNA were analysed. Salivary testosterone was measured. The prevalence of malignancy was significantly higher in MSM than in MSW (1.2% versus 0.2%; $p=0.02$). Long-term high semen neutrophil ($> \text{ or } =30\%$) was associated with decreased sperm motility, seminal volume and semen leucocyte count. It was prevalent in 15.6% of MSM and 2.8% of MSW ($p \text{ or } =4.0\text{ng/ml}$) than in those with normal level of serum prostate-specific antigen (1.8% versus 8.5%; $p=0.04$). In MSW, the prevalence of long-term high semen leucocyte count was significantly higher in men infected with human immunodeficiency virus than in men not infected with human immunodeficiency virus (13.3% versus 2.8%; $p=0.02$). The prevalence of long-term high semen neutrophil count was significantly higher in men infected with human immunodeficiency virus than in men not infected with human immunodeficiency virus (12.0% versus 3.7%; $p=0.001$). This study confirmed the epidemiological differences in the prevalence of urological malignancy in MSM and MSW. The detection of long-
