I tried to enable Firebase Cloud Messaging in my app with the GCM(Google Cloud Messaging) version 3.0.3, but I met the following problems. Problem 1: FCM has no effect on logcat. I turned on the logcat without FCM but the app can still work normally. Problem 2: FCM increases the memory usage. After enabling FCM, the app's memory usage suddenly rises. I am really confused whether I just get a simple GCM or FCM in the beginning. Is FCM possible to turn off from the service configuration after I turned on it? A: Firebase Cloud Messaging is not GCM. It is a Google service that is much simpler than GCM. You will most likely still need to use a Google service. This means you might need to use something like Firebase Cloud Messaging. However, it is possible to turn off FCM during testing. From the FCM documentation: Firebase Console / Developer Dashboard Go to a Firebase project in the console Select the settings icon () in the top right corner Select APIS & auth from the menu Select Cloud Messaging from the settings panel Enable or disable Firebase Cloud Messaging You should then be able to test this out while it's disabled.
