teachers who begin in 2020-21 start in the fall semester. teacher applicants must fill out an application to be considered for the program. the program is based on the texas state license for educational services (stel), which all teachers in texas must have. any teacher who becomes a tea certified reading specialist can decide to receive the texas reading academies reading specialist coursework for their state certification exam. in order for a tea certified reading specialist to receive texas reading academies coursework, the service provider must demonstrate a minimum level of participation in the program. the service provider may request that a district agree to provide a monthly financial incentive to encourage participation in the reading academies. tea recommends that districts and the service provider discuss each other's needs so that each can develop a partnership that meets the needs of both parties. districts will have an opportunity to provide input into this program. more information about the reading academies program can be found in the tea's webpage, as well as the tea's mou/contract between tea and the service provider, if applicable. the contract between tea and the service provider sets forth the requirements for participation and participation timelines for each year. teachers may receive the texas reading academies reading specialist coursework if they have successfully passed the str exam, have been retired from their position as a classroom teacher for at least ten years prior to retirement, and have moved into a non-classroom position for the 2022-2023 school year or beyond. the teacher will need to provide proof of having passed the str exam as well as have moved into a non-classroom position. more information can be found in the tea's webpage, or the service provider's contract can be accessed using this link
