Pazio (2013) in her dissertation entitled "Online information system for students of Bengue State University" emphasized that as the main goal of the school "to. She wanted university students to be able to get real-time updates from their communities and take part in discussions. Pazio is a PhD in Computer Science and we asked her to explain how she came up with such a system. In her dissertation, Pazio presented an information system that allows students to learn about everything that happens on their campus. The system, as stated in the title, is designed to help students in 0946cee1be
